Welcome

Welcome to Green Canary Day at Canary Wharf. Discover that Canary Wharf really is greener than you think as this year sees two days of activities, stalls and giveaways from eco-friendly companies showing people how to be more green both at home and in the office.

Canary Wharf's Green Canary Day is an hands on event that offers practical solutions to green problems. Take a stroll around the malls at Canary Wharf, pick up some hints, ask some questions and be inspired to go greener.

Bring the family on Saturday and enjoy face painters and workshops or head to Canary Riverside to get up close and personal with a Bengal Eagle Owl, Harris hawks and falcons or take part in our nature trail around the Canary Wharf to discover the ecological environment on our door step.

Children aged 16 and under can enter the Green Canary Day competition at the Canary Wharf Group stand in Jubilee Place shopping mall to be in with a chance to win a bike and safety accessories worth up to £500 – simply tell us why it is good to be green!

Sunday Times 60 Best Green Companies 2009

Canary Wharf Group plc was recently named one of The Sunday Times 60 Best Green Companies in the UK for 2009. Competition for places in this list was fierce and only those organisations demonstrating the highest environmental standards, with workforces engaged and in tune with green initiatives, made it onto the list.

"Canary Wharf is home to one of the world's great commercial clusters, with some of the best professional services, media, law, finance and public sector organisations and it is also striving to be one of the UK's best examples of environmental regeneration."

George Iacobescu, Chief Executive Officer, Canary Wharf Group plc

London Tideway Tunnels*

A major Thames Water project that is set to make the River Thames cleaner and healthier. London's growing population, more frequent intense storms and fewer green spaces to soak up rainwater are all contributing to unprecedented levels of untreated sewage being discharged into the city's iconic river. After extensive studies the Government instructed Thames Water to develop the London Tideway Tunnels that will collect, store and transfer foul water directly to Beckton Sewage Treatment Works, substantially reducing the amount entering the river.

Together the London Tideway Tunnels will provide the city with a sewage system fit for the 21st century and beyond.
